Open Network Video Interface Forum (ONVIF) åbner for medlemskab

- ▶ Axis, Bosch og Sony åbner ONVIF for medlemskab
- ▶ Virksomheder kan nu tilmelde sig ONVIF på forskellige medlemskabsniveauer
- ▶ ONVIF præsenterer en demonstration af kompatibiliteten ved Security 2008 i Essen, Tyskland
- ▶ Første møde for medlemmer og andre interesserede er planlagt til december 2008

Open Network Video Interface Forum (ONVIF), grundlagt af Axis Communications, Bosch Security Systems og Sony Corporation, åbner i dag officielt for medlemskab. Forummets formål er at udvikle en global åbne standard til netværksinterfacet på netværksvideoprodukter.

Tilmelding til forummet giver organisationer mulighed for aktivt at påvirke udviklingen af standarden. For at imødekomme individuelle niveauer af deltagelse findes der forskellige medlemskabsniveauer. Interesserede virksomheder kan vælge fuldgyldig, bidragende eller brugermedlemsstatus. Værktøjer og dokumentation gøres tilgængelige for medlemmer af ONVIF for at fremme udviklingen af kompatible produkter. Medlemmer får også ret til at bruge ONVIF-logoet. Medlemskabsaftalen, der uddyber medlemmernes rettigheder og privilegier, kan downloades fra ONVIFs hjemmeside på www.onvif.org.

ONVIF er repræsenteret med sin egen stand (GA-134) ved Security 2008 i Essen, Tyskland, 7.-10. oktober. Talsmænd for foreningen er til stede på standen for at præsentere en demonstration af kompatibiliteten baseret på rammerne for standarden. ONVIF-standarder definerer plug & watch-systemer og vil inkludere enhedsstyring, visning i realtid, styring af panorering/vipning/zoom, streaming af metadata og konfiguration og hændeshåndtering. Den anvender avanceret teknologi som defineret af IT-industrien. En teknisk oversigt over standarden kan fås ved standen.

Forummet har planer om at holde det første møde for medlemmer og andre interesserede i begyndelsen af december 2008. Arrangementet omfatter møder om forummets aktiviteter, medlemskabsmuligheder og tekniske retning. Dato og sted kommer til at stå på ONVIFs hjemmeside på www.onvif.org, når det offentliggøres.
